My name is Erick J. Cruz Sánchez, born in the Dominican Republic. I started programming at the age of 19, and to this day, I continue passionately developing as a Frontend Developer, assisting clients in achieving their goals and objectives. I have collaborated on projects of small, medium, and large scale, including one of my successes, GamerClubVIP, where I serve as the Lead Frontend, managing to have more than 3,000 visitors on our platform and articles. As a frontend developer, I enjoy innovating and applying best practices for optimal performance in applications. I love challenges, learning from them, and sharing my knowledge with the community and/or work team.
